In Your Patience Posses Your Soul

In Your Patience Posses Your Soul. Terms and Conditions

We are instructed from scripture to "In Your Patience Posses Your Soul". This is said for each one of us to know who and what we really are and what we really have to protect. Everything else becomes subjective and or academic. That our vested interest lives on after the expiration of the carnal body. That our spirit starts to develope when we first believe and carry's over into Gods realm, but we are considered there with Him when we first believe. Then we get to keep what we have amassed here as it pertains to our invisible components. That the soul is invisible, so that what you get to acquire and keep must be invisible too, because "all the earth and all its works will be burned for the eternal to remain".

This of course is for the most part out of reach from carnal perceptions. We can look in the mirror to see who we are. But that will some day be just who and what we were. So then who will we be? Paul taught to those in Corinth that " we behold as in a mirror the glory of God, are being transitioned into His self same image as by the spirit. And that "we are begotten by the spirit of truth to be a kind of first-fuit of His creation". That we are an embodiment of articles of writ, written on our hearts and minds. Much like a contract or a will and testament, or even a writ of genetic sequencing which defines the ingredient of a species. And because we are here with a mission to first "in our patience posses our souls, then also the spirit is part of this. And in protecting these, we need to be super sensitive and aware of what it means to protect these.

We can understand through the Garden of Eden account where Adam and Eve lost something of themselves. We know this because they felt inferior. That was because they knew that something was missing based upon how they used to feel in comparison with the empty feeling of the gaping hole in their soul for eating the forbidden fruit. Sot his begs to ask the question; what really is the forbidden fruit? Well based upon the empty feeling, it has to do with something you had that you had lost. And being made in the image of God, to in turn feel weak, afraid, inferior and naked. What exactly was it that the serpent did?

Because Adam and Eve felt naked, we could conclude that they lost a covering. A covering is first described as a shield, as a protection, as a covering or a coat.

So then with Adam and Eves new disposition of being exposed, this left them open to even distrust themselves and God Himself. They felt naked, ashamed and exposed, meaning to be turned inside out. And the proof that this had happened was that they felt fear for the first time.So that when God asked them where are you. It wasn't that God didn't know but Adam and Eve didn't. So when they admitted their new found weakness, they should've known that God didn't do that but that they had stepped outside of their coverage zone of faith by wrestling with the inquirey of "has God really said". For you see, they had no good reason to question that because everything was still evident. But now with their nw found fear, they were put in doubt mode and having to question evderything and in doing so they opened up a Pandoras box of fears and the need for coverages and coverings for everything. Whereas before they didn't because they had been made in the image of God, they hadn't experienced any short comings. And now with the seeds of doubt and fear sown into Adam and Eve had happened, it ensured that their whole genome had been compromised. Oh Adam what did you do? You were made a sovereign when I made you. I turn my face for a brief moment and you bought into a lie. The lie that you were incomplete. The lie that things were not complete or good or wholesome. So this put you on a never ending quest to answer the voices in you head from those you have let in.

And the application of this today is evident to those who understand this as those who "in your patience possess ye your soul". For you see if we do, if we keep watch and be on guard. To be aware, then we can learn to not only posses our soul, but to know how to recover it first. And for those who know how to do this, or for those who have done this, pput off the first symptom first. And that first symptom is fear itself. When ever we are challenged by a fear of any sort. We NEVER let our first response to be motivated by that fear, or are given in to protect ourselves from this newly presented information. And the importance of this is that, the more fears you have and the more shields and coverage's you buy into to to be protected, the more you actually loose of the image God gave to you to keep. Hence "in your patience posse ye your soul, has to do with protecting the you tat was made in the image of God. For this reason fear is always the enemy and the binder and modifier of your soul because you have bought into a lie. Yes, one lie after anther to where you are totally subservient. Yes you become "lorded over" because with each new coverage and covering that is meant to make you feel full, complete and safe, really just takes from you a piece of yourself. Yes the one you see in the mirror who was made in the image of God, not understanding that, has fled for refuge from another. and these competing concepts of coverage's DO NOT MIX.

It was in the beginning that Adam and Eve first felt fear, to have the curse reversed with the coming of Christ the savior. This is why in many cases the first words out of the mouth of the Son of God called the Christ, who replaced the fallen by fear image of God called Adam. So that we can be re-imaged to that which was from the beginning.

It was prophetic to have provided a tunic or a covering for Adam and Eves private parts by way of a blood sacrifice. For that is what was given us at the cross. And just as an insertion here for clarity, Christ is described as "The Lamb slain from the foundations of the world. Not just because this had been planned out before God ever said "let there be light". But also it was because Gods sacrificial lamb, meaning His Son and member of the Godhead body, being eternal. It was His blood that could be the spread and the covering for all of time and eternity because He is from outside of those restrictions, His blood purified creation forwards and backwards as it relates to time, showing us not only this certainty, but also confirming His authenticity and reliability so that even before there was proof of the sacrifice, thw act of animal sacrifices was done as an act of faith that it is finished. For this reason the Father referred to His Son as "The Lamb slain from the foundations of the world. And however much there are guilty murderers, Christ did this willingly so that every generation had access to this saving. The unfortunate thing is that many forgot this and thought that the sacrifices were pleasing to God, but they were not. (Isaiah chapter 1)

So then with the institution of The New Covenant founded on better promises than the Old one it replaced, fear then is the first thing we need to wrestle under foot because for any residual you have of this emotion (emotion being an energizer to motivate you away from the positive effects of the gospel, being a restoration of your own personal sovereignty, being an image of God owning yourselves. Why? Because in your patience ye posses ye your soul.

So let us break this down in terms and conditions you can understand in this day and age. As much as it seems to be empowering to sign up for all these services and coverage's of a modern day "internet", you may be surprised as to what you really got yourself into. A net. Yes the internet as having to do with a networking of information for controlling all data having to do with everything. With all its sensors and collection devises that are building profiles on everyone. They actually have a recollection of you with your name on it where they can actually put together a feed about you and your secracies , idiosyncrasies, and re-present you as you. They own their own copy of you for themselves. And the truth be told, because those who are collecting this information are not humans, they are something. They are or were body-less entities wandering like lost stars. But now have taken up (think of an artificial resurrection type of taken up) have taken up residency in the internet. That the fallen angels of old have been raised up in this way, at least into the realm of the internet. And just so that you know this is not new or unexpected, this is the reason scripture refers to the anti-christ as "the prince of the power of the air" not referring to oxygen but airwaves. And this may be a sick analogy but true, because they were not made in the image of God but wanted to be. They wanted to have life and to live free and therefor became jealous enough to try and steal Gods creation, not so much the world, for they already had authority over that, but they wanted to steal the object of creation being man. Not just any man, but a self sovereign like God had made us. But because they do not have their own corprial bodies they have to take them (humans) over or create them by having fallen people do it for them. So they do both

So how do they do this?By working off of humanities negative helic cycle of fear. They get willing submission from people. Yes, people willingly comply with their program unknowingly. Yes, really. And it goes like this

The "internet" (think of as a net of capture) is a weaving together a fabric in the lower heavens to keep people from rising for themselves. They are intricated through a system of submissions (means they put themselves under another's care for services and providers) whereby they agree to terms and conditions which ask for your permission over your personal information to include everything. And in the terms and conditions you agree to let them do so. Sounds innocuous so far. So they know everything about you. You think so what. Well at this stage they seem to be benevolent. But what you don't understand is that this is the soft sell of "the mark of the beast". And because people have bought into the lie that the mark hasn't happened yet, they have their guard down. But did you know that the text that referred to The Mark of the Beast opened and closed with this statement "do not seal the prophesies of this book "The Revelation" for the time is at hand. Meaning that the mark that was implemented to control humanity was forced upon the people of the time that book was written. So then how is it to be applied again? By way of a soft sell. Instead of a do or die scenario like with the mark in the book of the elevation, they impose their mark and ownership on you one subscription at a time, one terms and conditions at a time by offering you a plethora of services and coverage's of and on everything imaginable so that by and large, humanity will become just a citizen of the internet with little to no need for any real interaction from others but more importantly to have no real need fr the Creator God Himself because they have all their needs and wants covered. (Think again about Adam and Eve with their symbolic fig leaves to cover their private parts)
