

The signature of God

A son where is the father's name. Christ came in the name of the father. A named in the world is a pronunciation in a spelling. But the name of the father is the father. When the sun came in the name of the father it was not the spelling or the pronunciation so much as it was the character. Christ said I and the father are one. Christ said he who has seen me has seen the father. He was an exact representation and the exact image of the father. And in him dwells the fullness of the godhead body.

When one comes in the Name of the King if he Bears the king Signet his word is as if the king is standing right there. Whatever law or document or decree that is stamped with the King Signet are the Kings words and must be fully enforced. The gospel bears the signature of the Father. His signature is His Son. In the beginning was the Word. The Word wss with God and the Word was God". He said "I and the Father are one" This does not mean they are just in agreement but the two are inseparable. "He who has seen Me has seen the Father". And "he who has the Son has the Father also.

So the signature of the Father cannot be reduced to the dotted line on a document because it is still being pronounced today in what is called the Gospel. The Word has gone out to all the earth, even to the end of the ages.
