

In Your Patience Possess Your Soul

In your patience possess your soul.

This was a phrase spoken to us by our Savior, of times that would try the human race, that "there will be great earthquakes in various places, and famines and pestilences; and there will be fearful sights and great signs" to try those who dwell upon the face of the earth. That these things turn up opportunities for our testimonies, but "not a hair of your head will be lost". That in these trying times we hold onto the only thing we really keep, that you take with you away from this carnal experience. "In your patience possess your soul".

Fortunately for the elect, we have a partner in this endeavor because we considered our old person expired, taking our Fathers word to be raised in newness of life. The life we live now we live by faith in the Son of God who gave His life, for us to have His. Our life is not our own but His because we have partnered together.

To possess means to occupy, to be held, to be capable and to sit or reside. In terms of a place, it's to have possession or ownership. To sit is to rule and be in control. After all if you are not in control you do not possess.

And the point here is, who is in control. Well you might say "me of course" but upon further review of the evidence this might not be the case. You may think, well I handle my own affairs quite well. That you have your products and services set in place so that at the push of a button you can act with impunity. That by using the tools offered by the powers of the day, you have become god-like. That you are in control.

But maybe you have stepped in the trap and swallowed the bait. You have shared everything you have and everything you are by subscribing to anothers services you believe to be harmless and benevolent.

To subscribe. Sub means to put under. Scribe is a writ of authorization. That is why there are under writers. This outlines who is to serve whom.

To subscribe is to accept certain service providers to operate on your behalf in your stead. Esentially an alternate you. It is with your signature that you empower others to carry out the agreement. It is good to note here that nothing is free. Just because there is no money exchanged, you can be sure you are loosing something somewhere. Be careful what you sign up for.

Kinda like of old. When a King would manage his kingdom, he would send out emissaries with a letter having the King's sign or seal on it. It was as good and valid as if the King were standing right there. The letter contained the edicts and the power to perform on behalf of the king.

This is what your signature does. It acts on your behalf as though you were there. Whoever has your signature on a document has your permission to do and carry out everything spelled out in that document. Among these permissions are what's called, terms and conditions. This spells out the subscribers obligation in the relationship. An exchange takes place, either by payment or offering them to use your personal information knowingly or not.

The king is bound by his word, and you are bound by signing and accepting, or sometimes just a click of terms and conditions and in a court of law, it would rule in favor of the spelling..

And because God gave you your own sovereignty, to rule over your own affairs, you are responsible to perform what you agree to, knowingly or unknowingly, even if you didn't read or understand what you signed. You have to satisfy your contracts to term.

This is essentially what Adam and Eve did. They put themselves under the authority of another to receive a form of godliness by eating the forbidden fruit.

God had already given Adam and Eve His form of godliness with his first declaration: let Us make man in Our image" and "in His likeness He made them male and female". So it includes all of humanity.

We are each responsible for our soul, except for the young and weak. That is another topic having to do with coverings for care. "In your patience possess your soul, is for the elect of self governing sovereigns. This is why we have been mandated to "come out of her My people lest you partake of her sins and recieve of her judgments". We must dis-enfranchise ourselves and place ourself in our rightful due as outlined in the gospel of the Only Begotten, lest we be founf entangled in other agreements. For then the judgements would reach into our affairs. And if in nothing else, when the cards come crumbling down, we are not damaged by the debris, because in your patience you possessed your soul and removed yourself from all other attachments. We have taken no real stock with the powers that be of the gods of this age.

First we have to understand who "the prince of the power of the air, who now works in the sons of disobedience" is. Lest we become one of his. This would be clear as the one in control through services that operate in the air.

The Greek word for air is pneumas and means spirit, so you should know that there are two spirits. The Spirit of the Living God, which is mimicked by the prince of the power of the air.

The book of Revelation talks of a fousome smoke that comes out of the bottomless pit. It was instructed not to harm the trees or the vegetation, but only those who have not the seal of God in their foreheads, showing us that this smoke is not in about oxygen but airwaves of communicationd. This is the mind that is not occupied by the Holy Spirit of the living God. They have another source for sustinance. Another spirit for control and direction.

His Kingdom At Hand

As the elect we have an Unction from the Holy One (the Pnuemas of God) and we know all things". Not that we know all things simultaneously, but we know what we need to know when we need to know it because we are connected to the command center of all things. It is there for the asking for the Elect. The other power of the air offeres an alternate provider in the same way. Instead of using your asker, or your mouth punctuated with an Amen, you use your finger on your keypad.

For the elect of God we have access to Gods services spelled out by His terms and conditions we learn from in scripture. Where our savior said "ask anything from the Father in My name and He will do it". And God cannot lie.

This is not to blab-n-grab to satisfy your lower carnal nature. However the god of this age "the prince of the power of the air" of the mind void of God, of those who have subscribed to the gods, or service providers of the age, like a morphine pump, they can click away for the various ad ons and pleasures till they loose their soulby becoming enamored and entrenched in another sort of a God like fashion of, "something good to behold and to make you wise?

Hmm, this sounds like the Garden of Eden where they took a bite out of the apple. The question is, does your apple have a bite out if it too? Is it "pleasant to the eyes, and desirable to make one wise"? Can it help you "be like God knowing good and evil"?

Like with Adam and Eve, they were made to feel ashamed and naked needing to be covered so they used a leaf to hide their short fall. However the god of this age has plenty of different kinds of leaves to cover yourself with.

With each new paper, papyrus, contract, or terms and conditions you subscribe and agree to, all those coverages and coverings only blind you from Gods protection for you, and to preoccupy you from doing that one thing you need to do. Which is to "in your patience possess ye your soul". To take ownership of it. To un-subscribe from other powers who can only detain you. After all their are no what ifs, or just in case with God, as though He has a blind spot or has left us alone, because He has said "I will never leave you or forsake you" and "lo I am with you always, even through the end of this age. How much more thorough can His providers be?

Are you under the terms and conditions of Gods terms and conditions signed in the blood of His Son. Or have you agreed to other providers. Check? Or checkmate?

The Kingdom of God is at hand. Not with a signature. Not by pushing a button for a new app or service. But by professing faith and trust in the Almighty God for His service providers spelled out by His terms and His conditions we call the New Covenant, contract , and Will and Testament we call scripture.

Amen!
