

The Thousand Year Reign

The last book of the New Will and Testament called the book of The Revelation, opened and closed with "seal not the prophecies of this book for the time is at hand". Meaning it was in process.

This is different than Daniel who was told "But you, Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book until the time of the end.

Meaning for John, that his Revelation was happening when it was being written, because the term "at hand", means "right now and within reach".

The whole Old Covenant anticipated Gods Kingdom to come to expire it. That "all the law and the prophets were till John the Baptist, now the Kingdom is preached and all are entering". Have you responded to that invitation?

These all happened to start a New Covenant and Will and Testament. And it did.

The Only Begotten was first to proclaim , "The Kingdom of God is at hand" as being something tangible then, then he enacted it by His death at the cross signed by his blood, to institute Gods New and final covenant to mankind.

Hebrews 9 has this to say about that event; <sup>16</sup> For where there is a testament, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator. <sup>17</sup> For a testament is in force after men are dead, since it has no power at all while the testator lives". This was said to indicate that the cross of Christ was that death and the only action necessary by God, for us to be the recipients of our inheritance from Heaven called "The Kingdom of God at hand", on all and to all who took Him at His word.

That is why John 1 said "He came to His own, but His own did not receive Him, but to as many as received Him? To them He gave power to become His children, even those who simply believed in His name". In this way we believed in His title of Savior, and became joint heirs of the things that were said and outlined in the New Will and Testament, an inheritance that is still being distributed to those who hear the call.

As John also said that "In Him, meaning Christ, dwelled the fullness of the Godhead body, and you are complete in Him who is head over all principalities and powers". Meaning, whatever is His is yours too,, if you are able to receive it.

It can't be any better than this. And there is no need of another act by God or His only Begotten, to give you something as though They left something out, for "of His fullness we have received". Not in part but the whole thing.

Like the father said to the prodigal Son, "Cloth him in the finest attire (godliness) and prepare for him a feast, for this one was dead but now alive. The word "alive" in the context God means, is for you to be cognizant of His Ubiquitous presence. That is what "at hand" means.

Are you alive to the things of God? Are you enjoying the spoils of that death?

With the Only Begottens institution of "The Kingdom of God is at hand", He was proclaiming that "the acceptable year of our Lord" had come. That the Kingdom the old Covenant anticipated was then, as it is now in our day, in effect. The invitation into His Kingdom has never been recalled, but only forgotten. How many times have you heard this preached as something attainable?

Yes, the Kingdom of God is still within reach, and this is still "the acceptable year of our Lord".

We labored at establishing this truth for you to understand the predicament of our day.

This is all about the thousand year rule and reign of the Messiah that was first spoken then, and there is no scheduled replacement for His Kingdom and His New Covenant.

There is no third covenant ever spoken of. But there is scripture that speaks of a grand deception after a... thousand year reign, followed by a recall of ALL of creation (2 Peter 3.10).

There is however the coming one with all lying signs and wonders" one who would be temporarily empowered to deceive all those who disregarded the truth as spelled out here in Revelation, 20 Then I saw an angel coming down from heaven, having the key to the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand. <sup>2</sup> He laid hold of the dragon, that serpent of old, who is the Devil and Satan, and bound him for a thousand years; <sup>3</sup> and he cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal on him, so that he should deceive the nations no more till the thousand years were finished. But after these things he must be released for a little while."

And yes this grand deception would include a changing of dates, years and times. Meaning that, none of what we are commonly taught and believe is true, especially when it comes to modern calendars and date keeping.

For even Daniel was told this would happen when he was told to seal the book saying

So that rule and that reign of Christ, the "acceptable year of our Lord, started the thousand year reign of Christ with "The Kingdom of God is at hand, a phrase that wasn't available before Him becoming one of us, and lasts the stated 1000 years, being a fact in truth, and aligorical for our purposes.

In truth.

If you study coins you will see a sporatic gap between roughly 300 ad to 1300 ad. They fill this gap with fake history, the dark ages and plagues. The deaths of this supposed time are the excuses the date keepers of our era need, to explain why the populations of the world remain the same for the first thousand years of what they call, the common era. Their fake figures are like air in a balloon. This takes more faith to believe than to believe in God, for which they will be judged.

We can understand with gravestones you will see dates like i642 meaning, in the year of our Lord 642, to later change the i for a capital letter I that looks like a 1.

This means up to a thousand years was added to our time frame with that one obfuscation.

So the i for, in the year of our Lord, turns i642 into I642, not 1642.

With this one rectification of time, this puts us at the end of a thousand year reign, and time frame known as "The acceptable Year of our Lord" and King, the Christ who was born King, our A.D.

A.D. stands for the Latin phrase: Anno Domini, the year of our lord.

This has been the mark of the common era since the birth of Christ, the one born King. And if we remove that added 1000 years from our calendar, that puts us at the end of the thousand years and the time when Satan would be given his last opportunity to deceive humanity before 2 Peter 3. words are fulfilled that say :<sup>10</sup> But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in which the heavens will pass away with a great noise, and the elements will melt with fervent heat; both the earth and the works that are in it will be <sup>[d]</sup>burned up. <sup>11</sup> Therefore, since all these things will be dissolved, what manner of persons ought you to be in holy conduct and godliness, <sup>12</sup> looking for and hastening the coming of the day of God, because of which the heavens will be dissolved, being on fire, and the elements will melt with fervent heat? <sup>13</sup> Nevertheless we, according to His promise, look for new heavens and a new earth in which righteousness dwells.

the Revelation of our Lord and the time when Satan is released one last time to deceive the world.

Meaning that the events in our day, don't happen in the same order as the Revelation. It is the same demonic entities but they have had nearly a thousand years to polish their trade. That after this last attempt, 2 Peter 3.10 gets fulfilled, that all things will burn with a fervent heat for the eternal to remain and we move into the time "where only righteousness dwells".

Anyway, much to say and I'm open for dialogue.

Visit sometime.
