

The Truth about the Apocrypha

The Truth about the Apocrypha!

Jesus Christ after the empty tomb was seen. Not knowing who He was, two of the disciples were talking to Him as they walked along the road they asked "Are You the only stranger in Jerusalem, and have You not known the things which happened there in these days?" 25 Then He said to them, "O foolish ones, and slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! 26 Ought not the Christ to have suffered these things and to enter into His glory?" 27 And [beginning at Moses and all the Prophets, He \[a\]expounded to them in all the Scriptures the things concerning Himself.](#)

To this we ask; how could this be said of us that "slow of heart to believe in all that the prophets have spoken! If all that the prophets were no longer part of the approved texts? That some of them had been sidelined as false or dangerous? Well that is what we have in the 66 approved canonical books of our day called The Bible. The Bible is not complete with the removal of the Apocrypha.

Apocrypha, Apocryphal, Revelation, Epiphany, Unveiling, Uncovering. These are all synonyms that mean; to open up for display. To make known and understandable.

It is repugnant and amusing that the very portions of scripture that were carved out of the rest of the "authorized" texts and called "The Apocrypha" and said to be "false writings". That through the Protestant movement that regarded the Catholic church as heretical, that they both departed from the truths enshrouded and showcased in what they both Catholics and Protestants call "The Apocrypha". They were made to be of a lessor importance from other scripture and in doing so removed books that in times before that were included in Scripture.

THE DEFENSE FOR THE APOCRYPHA

The word "Apocrypha" does NOT mean "false" or "secret writings" as they present. No, for in fact apocrypha is similar to the word apocalypse which is the Greek word for revelation and The Book of the Revelation, and they didn't exclude that from the canon (or collection) of scripture. So the word "apocrypha" does not mean rejected, or unimportant. As a matter of fact, if people read it, they would NOT be as subjected to false teachings that have scattered people across a broad spectrum of denominations which each one of them in truth is just another breakdown of scripture and a new variance of what the scriptures say. And if you think about it, if any of them were a move in the right direction, wouldn't the rest of scriptures themselves be more relevant? And to make matters more obscure, we have more translations of scripture to accommodate the competing beliefs associated with scripture, and nine of them produce scriptural faith.

But nevertheless today "The Apocrypha" is regarded by most as taboo, to their own shirring. There are some very important teachings in the books and chapters there.

All scripture is given for revelation. To make visible invisible realities that associate with God who is omnipresent and omnipotent, and calls us to Himself by way of understanding. And however true it is that nature itself proclaims the Glory of God and shows His handy work, not for amusement. No, this recognition demands a response and an inquiry. To remain distant from and aloof of the knowledge of God by self motivation, means to remain dead to the things of God because to be considered alive to God means that you've at least made more than just an inquiry, but that you've taken some steps to find out on your own. But even to just remain in a holding cell of understanding through other people's narratives about God (because they don't want to read, or can't understand on their own). But this still categorizes one as being dead to God because they make no one on one contact with God other than a few words to throw back at God for Him to prove Himself. The thing is that creation is the proof. But people seem to be content with the story line that there is a God but He is aloof or just not here and needs to come back like a second coming, and that God is dependant upon emissaries to deliver messages. But we earnestly contend that God not only answers the honest seeker, but will shower them with His graces as long as they are not using Him as just another service provider. That He is a provider too, but has no obligation to do more than what He has already done. So therefore it is up to you to discover, or uncover His testimonies, like breadcrumbs to follow and apply in our understanding. And this ONLY happens by way of revelation, of peeling back the layers of misunderstanding woven over time to form a barrier. And by way of revelation, we mean the Greek origin "Apocalypse" and "Apocrypha" because that is what revelation means....

And when we learn to understand that He made us like Him, to interact and communicate openly and freely, to these He responds. He hates false humility, and you brandishing your worthiness as though you are deserving from Him more than you have. If you knew God more clearly, you would know yourself more completely. Then instead of trying to manipulate God to do something for you, you would thank Him for having done everything for you other than doing it for you. For since we ARE made in the image of God, then we are far more remarkable than what we are capable to understand and accomplish in this lifetime. But to restrict Him to here to expect Him to perform for you here, then we have to ask who serves whom and who is God. Because if God has to do and be certain things for you, then who serves whom and who is God in that scenario but the one who makes the demands and God will not pay into your folly. He has however left you ways for your own discovery of who He is. But as long as you are expecting more than the fact that millions have lived before you and left testimonies, not for you to have to rely on them because you will still remain dead to God until you personally make inquiries and take steps of initiation. We are called by scripture to press in to grab a hold of the things of God and to work out our own salvation with fear and trembling as needed to make a personal connection.

So to finish your term here and to not have acquired anything from God but what other people tell you, as though God is not here or must come later? This is you remaining dead to God and is equal to throwing away your only opportunity to unbecome what you were born with as standard carnal features to press in to attain, to own up to and apply the gifting from God for they are many. In truth you don't deserve the ones you've got. And if "from dust you are and to dust you will return"? And you don't acquire the gift given in the gospel? Have you ever truly lived? Because the argument could be made that if you did not inquire of God personally then you've never really lived other than running off the battery of life you were given. And when your term here expires and you've squandered your life without answers to these questions, you will have no defence. How will you answer the One who asks you, what did you do with what I gave you?

"Apocrypha" is a variation of the word "Apocalypse". An Apocrypha is the writings about the events of an Apocalypse itself. And the truth be told, all of scripture is Apocryphal accounting of Apocalypses. Apocalypse means, an unveiling, a revealing. To take something otherwise mysterious, obscure and unknowable by carnal perceptions, to put it into picture form for others understanding.

The picture of this is a veiled (covered) statue in a city public center. To then have a ceremony for a public gathering,, to remove the veil and expose, or present a human statue or bust, in commemoration of a famous and influential person like a king or a ruler. And for our unveiling of God, His Only Begotten and all the things they have in themselves, "in Christ" are Revealed, Unveiled , and presented as true and factual to the reader and the hearers of scripture. They were not left as a blue print for us to make for them to live out here, but for us to read, to understand and receive, so that we could join Them their in Their realm of Spirit and Truth. Even as Christ told the woman at the well that, “Woman, believe Me, the hour is coming when you will NOT on this mountain, NOR in Jerusalem, worship the Father. 22 You worship what you do not know: we know what we worship, for salvation is of the Jews. 23 But the hour is coming, and now is, when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth; for the Father is seeking such to worship Him. 24 God is Spirit, and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth.”. Showing us that the scriptures are our transformation rules to do so. So for scripture to be used in any other way, may be erroneous at best but neglectful and disobedient if you don't use scripture for it's God given intent.

Gods words are for revelations for your transformation to associate with Him, not for Him to come back for you because He never left in His true form of “Spirit and Truth. For this we need revelation, and spiritual direction. As Christ said “follow Me that where I am you may be also”. And He didn't warn of a two thousand year interlude.

As He said “all these things will happen to this generation “. Who also said “there are those standing here TODAY that shall not taste death till they see the Son of man coming in Glory. And I am sure they are not still living today so that day and that event has happened. It has come and gone so quit looking for another coming in His former fashion to appease your carnal senses. Besides the objective of scripture is NOT to make a people and a place ready to receive Him in a carnal way. Because then The Son of God has to re-transition back into the flesh and our transformation becomes irrelevant. Then scripture does not validate itself and we are found as false witnesses. But we are not because “flesh and blood does not inherit the kingdom”. But the re-spirited mind of faith does by way of revelation (Arocrypha and Apocalypse), just as we demonstrated with the woman at the well. “The time that you think still needs to come to appease your carnal expectations of this Jesus, is detouring you from The One “who was and is and is to come” already, in Spirit and Truth”, being the realm of the Father to which we are called to through “the gospel once and for all delivered to the saints” that we are called to contend for because of the influences of false believers in the faith that water down the TRUE message.

The misuse of the Apocrypha.

It is the Apocrypha books that the Catholics possess but don't use, that condemn them for believing in Mary as the mother of God because the accounts therein speak of “wisdom” as the Mother and the feminine third person of the Godhead. And equally ironic it is the protestants that removed the books in The Apocrypha that not only validate that the holy spirit IS the third person of the Godhead, The Mother of the Elect and Heavenly Jerusalem. (See attached photo from The Book of Wisdom. Wisdom from the Greek is "Sophia" and another name for the third person of the Godhead.)....

Unless you believe there are 3 men ruling in heaven and that women are not part of the godhead body like Muslims. But in the beginning God made His image "Male and Female made He them!

Solomon prays for Wisdom/Sophia and helper from God, for him to build A LIKENESS of the city wherein God dwells.

The Jerusalem on earth was ALWAYS ONLY meant to teaching toys of things Eternal, and why Paul said "when I was a child (think of the Israelites not jews) they were called children over 1100 times). Paul goes on to say "when I became a man I put away childhood toys" referring to the whole old testament and all it's promises as being expired. Meaning out dated and unusable bring no longer needed. They were for our transformation from here to there as "The Kingdom of God at hand" back then and now, where there is a King and a Kingdom or the King is no King at all but just a dreamer in waiting if He needs to come back to Earth to claim it. And if the Jerusalem today is to be regarded as Holy, and Heavenly, Then God has to be corrected because one of the first things He told Moses after the 10 Commandments was, "if you make Me an altar of stone, you shall not build it of hewn stone; for if you use your tool on it, you have profaned it".

is that " there (Galatians 4.26) and NEVER meant to build one on earth for a man name Jesus

God does not nor will not dwell in Temple made with hands. acts 17.24

2 Peter. It would be better off not to know the gospel then to know it and turn from it. But as it is written

For if, after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, they are again entangled in them and overcome, the latter end is worse for them than the beginning. 21 For it would have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than having known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered to them. 22 But it has happened to them according to the true proverb: "A dog returns to his own vomit," and, "a sow, having washed, to her wallowing in the mire."
